

Dear Colleagues!

We are pleased to invite you to submit papers to the 25th International Conference on Group Decision and Negotiation (GDN 2025), which will take place in Zaragoza, Spain, from June 15 to 18, 2025.

The conference provides an engaging forum for researchers, practitioners, and academics from around the world, bringing together participants from Africa, the Americas, Asia, Europe, and Oceania. The GDN conference series has consistently offered a stimulating environment for sharing state-of-the-art knowledge in group decision and negotiation, facilitating insightful discussions, and fostering the exchange of ideas and constructive feedback.

GDN 2025 will feature multiple thematic streams, covering a broad range of topics related to group decision and negotiation, including:

- Technological Foundations
- Systems Design and Use
- Methodological Foundations
- Theoretical Foundations
- Behavioral Aspects
- Applications

We would particularly like to highlight the stream on Preference Modeling for Group Decision and Negotiation, which we will organize at GDN 2025. First introduced at GDN 2015 (Warsaw), this stream has since provided a dedicated forum for researchers and practitioners working in preference analysis.

Conference proceedings will be published in a volume of Springer's Lecture Notes in Business Information Processing (LNBIP), with an additional local proceedings volume available for authors who wish to retain copyrights for their papers. Selected papers will also be considered for publication in the Springer journal Group Decision and Negotiation.
